

Lyrics for Skylight.

Take me by the hand,
lead me up the stairs,
lay me down in bed
underneath the stars.

Skylight frames the universe.
Desk lamp illuminates us.
And in the glass I can see you and me, reflecting.
The bright parts of our bodies are hovering, magically.

I look up at you, you look at me.
I catch your eye, you're smiling.
You can see we're floating in everything.
You give my hand a little squeeze.

You turn and kiss my cheek.
You turn over onto me.
(This is the happiest I'll ever be.)
Your gravity is holding me.

The stars will see that I love you tonight through the skylight.
